Defining Theft, Fraud, and Embezzlement

For our purposes, we will use the terms theft, fraud, and embezzlement
interchangeably

Defining Theft, Fraud, and Embezzlement

Stealing isn't the only way PTA is cheated of money...

Withholding

is another method of depriving PTA of needed funds at the local, state, and national levels.

The Impact of Fraud

- *MOST OF ALL THEFT HURTS
PTA's CAUSE FOR CHILDREN*

- Damaged reputation and relationships
- Loss of members and outreach
- Loss of advocacy at the local, state, and national PTA
- Loss of grants

The Fraud Triangle

Developed by: @PTA

Warning Signs of Theft

- Delayed reports
- Cash receipts
- Many corrections to the ledgers
- Lifestyle changes
- Missing money on Friday, replaced Monday

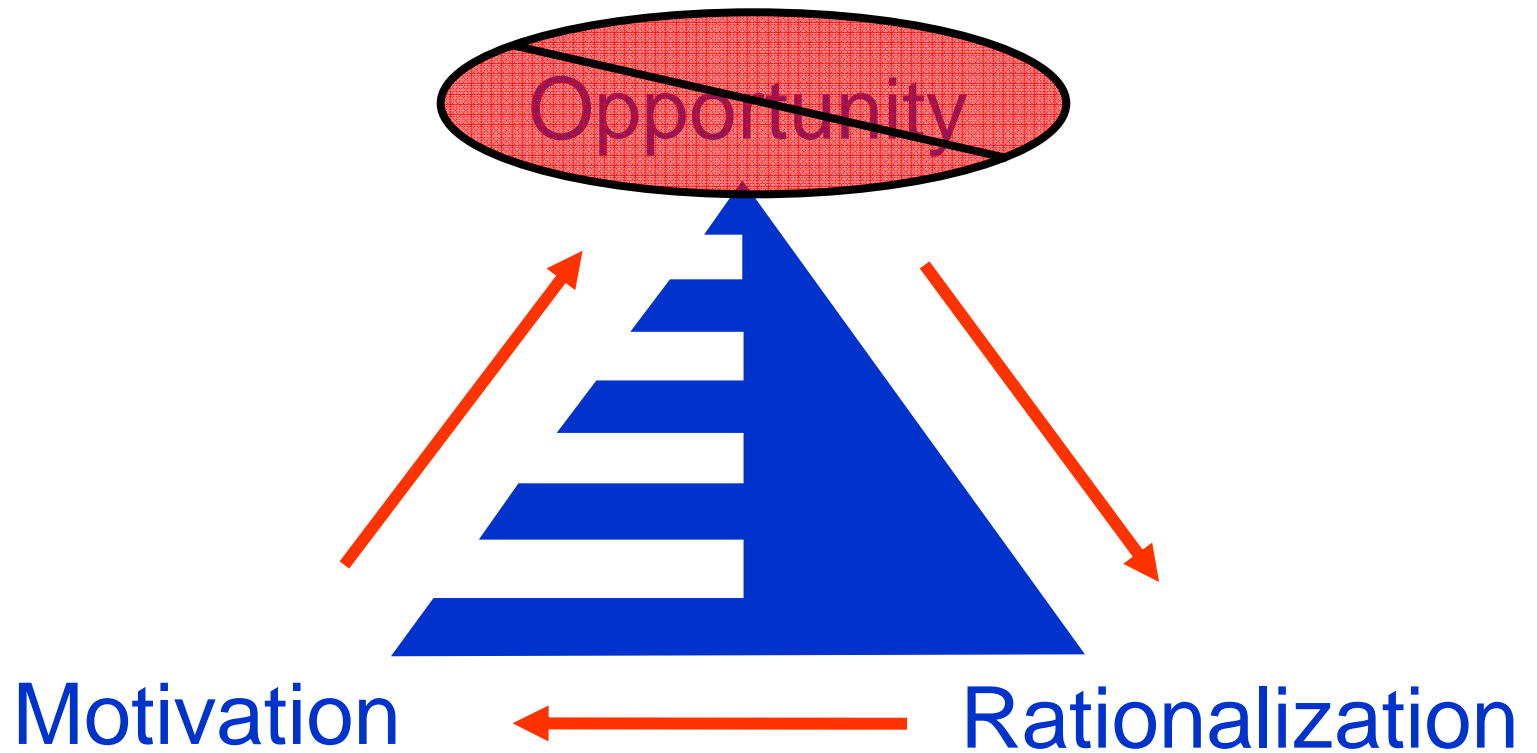

Warning Signs of Theft

- Signatories are related
- Checks made out to “Cash”
- Large checks, pre-signed checks, or bouncing checks
- Not following internal controls
- Avoid/delay annual audit

The Fraud Triangle

Tips to Prevent Theft

- Annual audits
- 2 signatories (not the secretary)
- Monthly reviews of activity
- Verify cash logs, provide receipts and bank deposit slips
- Make bank deposits immediately
- Have two people count cash

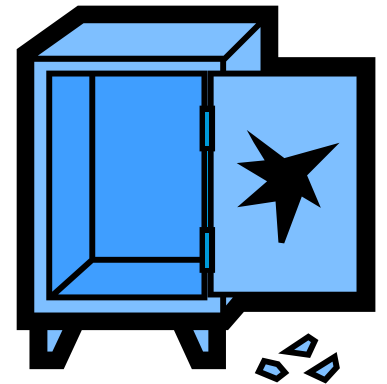

Tips to Prevent Theft

- Review accounts payable and vendors
- Secure the checks, don't pre-sign checks, look for missing checks or checks made out to cash.
- Track all bills and use original invoices
- Ask for proof of tax payments

Common Reasons Why Theft Is Not Reported

- Negative publicity
- Concern for safety if the offender makes threats
- Legal action by the offender
- To avoid embarrassing the offender and/or the offender's children/family.

The Downside of Not Reporting/Prosecuting

- Sets precedent for additional thefts.
- Creates an environment that encourages theft.
- Loss of credibility and respect for your PTA among members, the community, partners, and donors.
- Voids bonding insurance policy (if not prosecuted)

What to do if you suspect Theft

- DO NOT make accusations! (libel, slander)
- Determine suspect's access to other PTA resources
- Gather facts, documents, and interviews.
- Identify all accounts involved and consider freezing or closing them.
- Contact the authorities.
- Contact the insurance company.

A Brief FAQ on Insurance

Insurance

What does a fidelity bond policy cover?

- Protects the cash of the PTA unit against theft, fraud, and embezzlement

Who should be covered under this policy?

- Anyone in your PTA who has access to or handles money (e.g., Treasurer, President, Fundraising Chair)

Insurance

How else should a PTA handle its fidelity bond policy?

- Inform the insurer of any changes (people) during the year and cover the position, not the person. See if a “blanket” policy would be a better value.
